Progressive Convention Likely to Be Held in Chicago at Same Time as Republican Gathering.

Chicago, Jan. 10-Holding option on 800 Chicago hotel rooms, the Florentine room at the Congress, the Auditorium theatre and Orchestra hall, to be used if taken the same week as the Republican national convention in June, friends of Colonel Roosevelt, headed by George W. Perkins, flocked to Chicago today from all parts of the country. Most of them come as members of he Progressive national committee which meets tomorrow to prepare the call for the Moose convention. if the committee tomorrow fixes the same date as the republican conciave for their convention, which was considered a foregone conclusion tonight, then the options will be closed and the contracts signed for several headquarters.

A further significance in the grabbing of the headquarters was the official announcement that Colonel Roosevelt would hold himself in readiness to come to Chicago at the time of the two conventions. He is going to the West Indies where Mrs Roose velt sceks recuperation after her ill ness, but he will be back in the Unit ed States in ample time to take the limited train for Unicago if his friends desire his presence. National committeemen from most of the state confirmed the early gossip that at amalgamation of the Progressive and Republicans is possible nex June, even if Colonel Roosevelt is not nominated. But all agreed that the stampeding of the republican conclave for the Colonel would end the defection and make everybody hilari

British Force There Again Defeated But Not Crushed

TURKS HAVE IMMENSE ARM

Have Surrounded British Garrison at Kut-el-Amara But Relief Column Is Nearing the City.

London, Jan. 11-A disaster for the British in Mesopotamia is indicated daughters in New York and Council in reports from German and Turkish Bluffs. The trusteeship is to con cources. It is said that part of the British army at Kubel-Amara, where of the attempt to reach Bagdad, is geiting a quarter of the entire estate surrounded by Turks and that the rest is in retreat.

The British claim contradicts this, apparently, it being officially stated A. A. Carleton of Newbury New that the Turks are retreating.

A dispatch from Berlin sent yesterday by wireless to Eayville says: The British army at Kut-el-Amara. in Mesopotamia, has now been surrounded completely by the Turks, according to Constantinople advices given out today by the Overseas News Agency. It is said that the Turks have advanced to the main defenses of the British. The main British army in Mesopotamia, according to these advices, is in retreat, 19,000 men having been left in Kut-cl-Amara to cover the movement."

A German official wireless dispatch lated at Constantinople, received at London yesterday, makes the claim that Kut el-Amara has been surround ed by the Turks and adds: "It is hoped that the fort will soon either be taken or fall for want of food stuffs and that the British defenders who number more than 10,000 will be captured. The Brarsh thought by leaving these forces in Kut-el-Amara o guarantee the defense of the town and also to assure the orderly retreat of the remainder of the army. This portion of the army is at present a ong way southeast of Kut-el-Amara and cannot go to the help of the fort. especially as the morale of this force s shaken!

The Turks in Mesopotamia were in full retreat on Sunday with the Britsh pursuing them, it was announced in the House of Commons at London yesterday by J. Austen Chamberlain secretary for India. There had been neavy fighting on both banks of the Tigris on January 7 Mr. Chamberlain's announcement states, and the British had taken two Turkish guns and 700 prisoners.

Recent dispatches have indicated that the British expedition in Mesopotamia, was confronted by Turkish orces of superior size and that it would have difficulty in maintaining isal; at Kut-el-Amara. The defenses of the city, in fact, were attacked by the Tarks some time ago, resulting in evere fighting, but the British were the to repulse the assaults.

The retreat from Kut-el-Amaraassuming the correctness of the un official advices from Berlin-apparent y weans the abandonment by the British of any attempt, for the present at least, of an offensive eampalan in Mesopotamia, It was in Novemper of 1914 that an Anglo-India: force, starting from the Perisian gulf. egan marching north and west over the desert following the Tigris and Euphrates rivers wherever possible. The fighting was slow and exhausting but the British pushed northware steadily until in September of 1915 hey reached Kut-cl-Amara, which is 230 miles northwest of the head of the Persian gulf. They defeated the Turks there and advanced to Ctesithon, 18 miles below Bagdad. The Furks sent up large forces to save Eagdad and after an initial defeat, again attacked and won a victory over the invaders. The British fel back on Kut-el-Amara, but there has seen no previous builmation that they intended to abandon this point.

Although the Berlin report of the British retreat in Mesopotamia appears to be at variance with the British announcement that the Turks are falling back after heavy fighting, Mr. Chamberlain's statement to the House of Commons does not disclose he point at which the engagement referred to occurred. It is possible that this action took place somewhere south of Kut-el-Amara between the Turks and the main body of the Brit-
